

August 6, 2014 12:12 a.m. Wednesday

Right now I am sitting with 清子 at the kitchen table or i say, and still am but now am at my bed (1:22 a.m.)

and she finally gave in and is sitting at the head of the bed while I am reviled/lying on my stomach facing the foot of my bed.

Today has been a supremely strange day. I don't remember exactly what time I woke up this morning (9, 9-ish) but anyway the deal was that 清子 would bike over with milkshakes from the village to hang out.
I am not sure how on earth I came to think it would be okay as it turned out to be supremely awkward/long bouts of uncomfortable silence and 清子 exclaiming more than once that she was either bored or felt like things were really awkward. I felt like I had ruined things in the most ~~easy~~ way possible.
So that when it was time for me to go to work (2:00 pm)
I asked her to walk with me for a bit and she ended up walking me all the way to the smc (or the back of it anyway) even though it wasn't even necessary, so then I was like maybe I haven't fathomed up or something.
So I sent her a text during work that was basically like I am sorry but thank you for everything today. ~~and~~ then she ended up responding